TIBER

Published by the Students of
Lake Erie College, Painesville, Ohio

Editor-in-Chief : Jeane Thompson Business Manager : Nancy James

Dr. Paul L. Richards

DEDICATION

Being responsible for the antics of fifty Freshmen was no small matter, especially when he was "really a Freshman here, too," but the new professor of Romance languages agreed to be adviser to the Class of 1943. The partnership proved to be a profitable one for the fifty. For the indecisions and complexities of their college years, they found a reservoir of New England humor and sound judgment at their disposal. Because in four years he has succeeded in transforming such vague generalities as co-operation, friendship, and guidance into meaningful actualities, the Senior Class, in simple and sincere appreciation, dedicate the 1943 TIBER to Paul L. Richards.

FOREWORD

Focusing a kaleidoscope is no easy task, especially when it contains the variegated daily patterns of life at Lake Erie College. But the Tiber staff adjusted its all-seeing eye and set out to catch the striking highlights appearing on the college campus and calendar. It opened the door leading to every important college activity and discovered therein a new purposefulness mixed with the carefree, a brisk tempo underneath a leisurely air, and an excited concern for the future with a respect for the past. It then focused the Tiber kaleidoscope accordingly.

Therefore, after much detailed exploration, the staff is particularly proud to present this year's Tiber because it is representative of the people who cross our campus, the activities that take place on it, and the traditions that envelop it. It feels that the Tiber is also another convincing proof that during the challenging months of 1942-43 Lake Erie College has "walked abreast with the days."

Miss Bragdon, in her second year as Lake Erie's president, has led the college with ability and understanding in its wartime program. She has made herself Lake Erie and has given the school a part of herself. The changes in college activities made necessary by the war have been so capably directed and so carefully provided for by Miss Bragdon that Lake Erie has been able to retain most of its traditions.

DR. VERA MICHELES DEAN

DR. VERA MICHELES DEAN, Lake Erie's first visiting lecturer, gave two series of timely lectures on the campus. An established authority on European affairs, Dr. Dean devoted her first series of lectures and classroom discussions to the factors influencing the prewar world, her second series to the postwar world and reconstruction.

Dr. Harry J. Carman, Lake Erie's second visiting lecturer, is professor of history at Columbia University. For Dr. Carman's visit the classes in American Government and American Literature met together and discussed not only American culture from 1860 to the present time, but also America's place in the future of civilization.

DR. HARRY JAMES CARMAN

The problems created by the present world conflict will be ours to solve; it is through courses such as those given by Dr. Dean and Dr. Carman, which arouse the interest of the students and stimulate the desire for further study, that we at Lake Erie will be better fitted to solve these problems intelligently and wisely.

ACADEMICS

FORTY-THREE'S FOUR YEARS

OFFICERS

President . . . . . Eleanor Wray
Vice-President . . . . . Jeane Thompson
Secretary-Treasurer . . . . . Betty Martin

Some day a long time from now when we Seniors are much older, and a little wiser, if possible, we will look back upon our four college years with deep satisfaction. They have probably been the brightest years of our lives, both intellectually and socially. Perhaps at our twenty-fifth reunion the conversation may take this turn:

"Remember our freshman year when we were green, but eager? How proud we were that we found the sophomore distinctions! On the other hand, we were pretty crushed when we heard that the Treasure Box was left out there under the bridge with no one to claim it! That was one of our best years—'Our hearts were so young and gay!' "

"Oh, no! Sophomore year was even better. We were much wiser that year—much more worldly. We knew everything, including the Freshman Slam Song, and we had the honor of finding the striped box that always creates so much suspense. Wasn't that the year some of our members designed the Lake Erie ring that has set a precedent for following classes? Have you ever forgotten the Leap Year Dance we gave? Our female stag line nearly revolutionized the college, and most of our dates had to buy their hats in the outsize department from that day on."

"Junior year was definitely the best. Why, that was the year we developed our motto: 'Quality, if not quantity.' As you remember, we had begun to dwindle considerably in size. We elected Bunny Wray president, an office which she filled admirably for two consecutive years. That was also the year we had to decide whether or not it would be patriotic to go on with plans for a Junior Prom. Our final decision was to have Prom without a Tea Dance. Another innovation of that week-end was having the banquet Friday night at the Studio Inn rather than in our own dining room. We had a beautiful Prom in spite of our numerical size. Wasn't that the year they all laughed when we received the Senior Steps singing gaily, 'We're gonna win that Hockey Cup'? We were always clowning!"

"All of you are wrong. Our senior year was by far the best. We actually had enough people for a hockey team, and broke our previous record by tying the Juniors in one game. That was the year we all took on the same last name—there was Molly Grind, Marion Grind, Betty Grind, Doris Grind, and many more grinds—we really studied! We kept our colors flying high by choosing Jo Brown as our temporary adviser in Mr. Richards' absence. We never did decide which angle was correct for wearing our mortarboards. Some were rakish, some sedate as at Senior Chapel. That dignified year was the best."

Each of us, however, will realize that every year vied with the preceding year for the honor of being the most outstanding. And we will remember the four years as a total, not as the terms of its parts.

PROM AND SANDWICHES

President . . . . . Nancy Duff
Vice-President . . . . . Donna Lockard
Secretary-Treasurer . . . . . Mary Jo Gartland

"We shall always stand together as one team!"—this was the byword we Juniors adopted at the beginning of our career here at Lake Erie. We are a smaller class now, but the thirty-two of us still have the same lilting class spirit. Captained by Nancy Duff, we have had a year crammed with activities. We were quick in orientating our sister class, those "bigger and better" Freshmen. Under the leadership of "Danny" Danforth and Marge Sopko, we won both the hockey and the basketball championships. "Junior Sandwiches" was our cry every week-night, and we carried on with the traditions of Junior Cottage and "cokes" in the Hatchway. Our gift to the Cottage was a coat of paint, which we personally applied. The highlights of our year were Prom and the Junior Revue, the latter directed by Nancy James and Marg Osbourne and written by Pats McCrady and Cora Flanders.

SOPHOMORE SOPHISTICATES

President . . . . . Caryl Ritterrath
Vice-President . . . . . Dorothea Conkey
Secretary-Treasurer . . . . . Barbara Love

Last September we came back to Lake Erie eager to prove that we could make up in quality what we lost in quantity; we believe we have proved our point for we all stick together when class spirit is needed, even though our class interests are extremely varied. Some of us trace steps to the art lab, some are wearing the hyacinth-crisp uniforms of the Home Ec department; many are singing above the cathedral blue robes, or peering from behind stage curtains. We have amazed ourselves by showing an interest in subjects from Dali to Psychology! Whenever you see those things resembling yellow lollipops bouncing to J and B's, the hockey field, or the libe—they are the Sophomores in their yellow dinkies, singing, shouting, displaying their sense or nonsense.

Fourth row: Margaret Ann Graham, Jean Ann Johnson, Ruth Henry Rosenfelt, Marilyn Davies, Caryl Ritterrath, Nancy Snyder, Jeannette Elliott, Pat Ford.

Third row: Jean Dawson, Anne Creveling, Rebecca Keener, Nancy Derr, Barbara Lamberton, Virginia Bloom, Jeanne Rabin, Betty Lyle, Alice Tear.

First row: Ruth Norris, Jeanne Champlin, Millicent Fletcher, Frances Kinsey, Barbara Love, Betty Ann Crisp, Pat Sullivan, Nina Abels.

Members not present: Karleene Andrews, Diane Button, Mary Donaldson, Mary Wilmer.

HERE ARE THE VERDANT FRESHMEN

President . . . . . Polly Preston
Secretary-Treasurer . . . . . Henrietta Juve

Shyly and soberly we made our appearance in the fall. Half a hundred of us; shyly because we were Freshmen, soberly because we were the first class to enter Lake Erie since the war began. We lost no time in making friends among the upperclassmen and in cementing our own class unity. During Freshman-Sophomore Week, our official initiation, we paid homage to our tormentors for four days, and then Susan Levy scored a hit for us by beating them to the Treasure Box. The hockey season was a challenge that we met fiercely and with determination, but without success, in spite of some really brilliant playing. Semesters found us struggling with our first midyear; Valentine's Day we assumed our first big social responsibility with the Freshman Valentine Party. The spring term slipped away from us too fast, and it was June before we realized it. Happy veterans of one year, we!—rich in experience, and all ready to be called Sophomores.

Third row: Alice Hewit, Deanne Levine, Barbara Chandler, Muriel Switzer, Jane Corlett, Betty Lewis, Helen Wearstler, Helen Sonewald, Kate Hastings Mary Louise Thompson.

Second row: Margaret Brown, Mary Ann Kappen, Betty DeArment, Mary Jo Lerch, Gloria Fullerton, Cary Hoover, Rosemary Harig, Wilma Mazock, Nancy Scott, Mary Lick.

ORGANIZATIONS

DEMOCRACY: 1943

President ..... Judy Dechant
Vice-President ..... Marjorie Guenther
Secretary ..... Nancy James
Treasurer ..... Dorothea Conkey

Lake Erie is proud of her democratic Student Government. A self-governing organization chosen by the students themselves, it gives an opportunity to everyone who wishes to voice her opinions or present her problems through it. "Student Gov," as it is affectionately called, is particularly ideal in its methods since each problem is considered as individual, and few penalties are doled out automatically.

This year's Student Government has performed its duties admirably under the iron rule of Judy Dechant. Margie Guenther developed a healthy "shush" which cleared the corridors for studying during quiet hours, and Nancy James' penmanship must have improved from writing penalty notes. If this year has seemed quiet for Student Government, it may be attributed to the excellent quality of the organization's leadership.

THE VENERABLE EIGHT

Chairman ..... Cynthia Sewall
Secretary ..... Margaret Sopko

The high sense of honor that we have here at Lake Erie is due to the underlying integrity and high standards of our Honor Board. This Board, which consists of representatives from each class and two faculty advisers, encourages superior college citizenship by advancing the principles of individual honor and sense of right and wrong. The wholehearted cooperation given the Honor Board is indicative of the esteem in which we, as a college community, hold our Honor System.

"CHRISTIAN LIVING, OUR FIRST LINE OF DEFENSE"

President . . . . . Janet Gilliam
Vice-President . . . . . Donna Lockard
Treasurer . . . . . Margaret Sopko
Secretary . . . . . Caryl Ritterrath

"We, the members of the Young Women's Christian Association of Lake Erie College, unite in the desire to realize a full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God." During this year of war the club has fulfilled this purpose more than ever. Many Sunday evenings the girls gathered for group singing and throughout the year conducted special services. At Christmas the club entertained, carrying forth its purpose by portraying the Christmas spirit for the poor children of Painesville.

The "Y-Dub" began functioning on the opening day of school when each Freshman was met and introduced to her new college life by her "Big Sister", but its work did not end. It continued throughout the year and will continue likewise in future years.

INTELLIGENTSIA

President . . . . . Betty Martin
Vice-President-Treasurer . . . . . Cynthia Sewall
Secretary . . . . . Jeane Thompson

The symbolic gold key of Kappa Alpha Sigma is one of the most coveted possessions of those Lake Erie students who are admitted to the society each spring. Election to this, Lake Erie's own honor society, is based upon the qualifications of scholarship, service, and loyalty to the college. Members are Juniors and Seniors who meet the highest requirements of these qualifications. New members were initiated into the organization at formal ceremonies held in May this year.

Standing: Margaret Osbourne, Helen Morse, Priscilla Hersey, Virginia Lees, Doris Severs, Donna Lockard.
Seated: Caryl Ritterrath, Kathryn Johns, Martha Akers, Janet Gilliam, Nina Abels, Cora Flanders, Margaret Sopko.

Second row: Marjorie Guenther, Marien Dieteman, Margaret Sopko, Wilma Todd, Cynthia Sewall, Betty Martin, Charlotte Edson, Mary Jo Gartland, Jane Zangerle, Marian Getler.

ON WINGS OF LIVING SONG

Director . . . . . Betty Phillips
Secretary-Treasurer . . . . . Margaret Osbourne
Accompanist . . . . . Nancy Duff
Librarian . . . . . Eleanor Wray

Lake Erie's Glee Club, under the able direction of Betty Phillips, is one of the most active organizations on the campus. Besides presenting several delightful chapel programs, the group caroled during the Christmas season and on May Day. Although the popular Case-Lake Erie concert had to be omitted because of transportation difficulties, the Glee Club was active on Alumnae Week-End and presented its Commencement Concert on Grove Day. Each spring, just before exams begin, the club holds a "bat" at the Lake, at which the officers for the coming year are elected.

GLAD THE VOICES SING

Director . . . . . Mr. Kraft

One of the first things a Freshman does when she comes to Lake Erie is to try out for the choir. If she succeeds in passing Mr. Kraft's test, she enters a fine musical organization. Every vesper service, Founders' Day, Baccalaureate, and Commencement finds the choir on hand to add to the festivity of the occasion. Christmas Vespers especially show the ability of the members and the talent of their director. The blue-robed choir forming out across the campus for the academic procession, marching down the aisle to the opening hymn at vespers, and singing such familiar anthems as "Let All Things Now Living" is one of Lake Erie's finest organizations and perpetuates many of the best of its traditions.

Third row: Virginia Slocum, Dorothea Conkey, Kate Dennison, Beth Stube, Polly Preston, Betty Danforth, Karleene Andrews, Jeannette Elliott, Pegge McClain, Janet Gilliam, Marilyn Davies, Marjorie Glick, Nancy James, Betty DeArment, Ruth Thompson, Ruth Henry Rosenfelt, Deanne Levine.
At Piano: Mr. Kraft.

ACADEMIC CORRELATION

President . . . . . Dr. Bennett
Secretary . . . . . Bee Lancaster
Treasurer . . . . . Betty Martin

The Humanities Club is an unique organization on Lake Erie's campus. Its members are not all students of one department, nor even of any one interest. The club is made up of major students and faculty members in the departments of Romance languages, German, English, classics, history, and philosophy; its aim is to show the relationship of these various studies. This year the club broadened its scope even more by cooperating with other clubs in joint meetings during the visits of Dr. Dean and Dr. Carman. In March the club sponsored on the college campus the Russian movie, "Alexander Nevsky."

A SPLATTER OF PAINT

President . . . . . Mimi Lewis
Secretary-Treasurer . . . . . Jean Hanna

The Art Club, small and distinctly select group of eager aesthetes, broke tradition this year and elected a senior as president of the club. No organization could fail to strike sparks under the spirited guidance of Mimi Lewis, and Lake Erie's artist colony flourished apace. Everyone is familiar with the club's exhibits—and surely no one can forget the unusual collection of South American posters that adorned the walls of Bentley, the "Sub", and general office last fall. Private fun and entertainment is never lacking in this club with exciting trips to Miss Lee's, uproarious bats, and jolly meetings in the Art Lab.

Members not present: Margaret Geissman, Betty Martin, Marian Getler, Ellen Tear, Mary Jo Gartland, Jean Smith, Marilyn Campbell, Charlotte Edson, Jane Zangerle, Betty Danforth.

Alice Tear, Cynthia Sewall, Susanne Bliss, Mary Nicholl, Margaret King, Jean Ann Hanna, Cora Flanders, Mary Lewis.

HATCHWAY, 7:15

President . . . . . Jeane Thompson
Vice-President . . . . . Mary Jo Gartland
Secretary . . . . . Betty Martin
Treasurer . . . . . Margaret Sopko

The twenty-five members of the International Relations Club have had an exceptional treat this year—they have been able to discuss international problems with Dr. Vera Micheles Dean, and hear many of her informative lectures on world affairs. The club profitably centered its first semester around Dr. Dean's visits to Lake Erie.

Especially in time of war, both national and international news needs clarifying; therefore, the aim of "International" is to provide open opportunities for valuable discussion. The Community Forum on World Affairs which the Club helps to sponsor is anticipated every year by the whole college community.

CUISINE CONNOISSEURS

President . . . . . Ruth Klinger
Vice-President . . . . . Martha Akers
Secretary . . . . . Betty Skillman
Treasurer . . . . . Dorothea Waldschmidt

Throughout the nation, the state, and the community, Lake Erie's Home, Economics Club gives its active participation.

Belonging to the National Association of Home Economists, the club came in close contact with a part of this organization at the regional conference held at Lake Erie this fall. Representatives of six colleges convened to discuss the Home Economist's place in the war.

A closer contact was made with the community through activity with the Painesville Red Cross. Each night two of the members volunteered their services to help this organization in its war work. Lake Erie's home economists also have been active in assisting with experimental dinners and lectures which have helped to solve wartime food problems.

EXPLORERS OF THE MACROCOSM

President . . . . . Molly Duff
Vice-President . . . . . Caryl Ritterrath
Secretary-Treasurer . . . . . Teddy Dilley
President Ex Officio . . . . . Virginia Reherd

Remember the Science Club show, particularly Molly Duff's fluorescent-lighting experiment? This was outstanding proof that science can be amazing and beautiful as well as practical.

This year the war has directed the interests of the club and has given those interests an added impetus. Realizing the importance and timeliness of their activities, Science Club members have done an effective job of impressing all of Lake Erie with that importance.

BODY BUILDERS

Making life vigorous for Lake Erie students is the job of the Athletic Association. Each student automatically becomes a member of the association when she enters Lake Erie, and her sport activities are planned and guided by the Athletic Board, composed of those who have shown themselves especially capable in athletics. Climaxing a year of unusual activity, during which a special physical fitness program was inaugurated, were the honorary varsity appointments and the coveted Lake Erie Blazer awards.

VOICE OF THE CAMPUS

Co-Editors . . . . .Cora Flanders and Cynthia Sewall
Business Manager . . . . . .Margaret Sopko

The Student Prints, the college newspaper, is one of the youngest of student organizations, since this is only the second year that it has appeared on the campus in its present form.

The press serves the college in the double capacity of acting as a medium for the expression and discussion of campus opinion, and of presenting news articles of timely interest. It also encourages creative writing, since it accepts for publication stories, essays, and poems submitted by the students. Because everything but the actual setting up and printing is done by the staff, under the expert guidance of the faculty adviser, Mr. Howard G. Baker, The Student Prints provides an excellent opportunity to obtain practical newspaper experience.

Bartenders . . . . Eleanor Wray, Teddy Dilley, Jean Ann Johnson.

"The South American Way" was originally the Junior way. Six American girls go to Chile to compete in a spelling bee, which was dubiously designed to promote good will between the Americas. After getting tangled in a shipboard romance, the girls finally arrive in Chile. But pandemonium breaks loose at the studio from which the spelling bee is to be broadcast to the Americas when it is discovered that the senoritas cannot understand or spell the English words and vice versa. The situation becomes critical because the girls, planning to win the $2,400 prize, do not have enough money to get home. After struggling heroically with tortillas, tertulias, and America del Sur in general, the girls finally find a way back to the good old U. S. A.
